Subject: New expert in parasitology

Dear customers,

We are pleased to announce that a new parasitologist, Dr. Christopher Fernandez-Prada, joined our team last August. Originally from Spain, Dr. Fernandez-Prada has made his veterinary studies at the University of Leon and graduated in 2008. He then continued his training in Spain and earned in 2013 a Ph.D in Biomedical Sciences.

Before being hired as an assistant professor at the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Dr. Fernandez-Prada has worked three years as a Postdoctoral researcher at the Infectious Diseases Research Centre (CHUV) of Université Laval in Québec. He recently joined the Diagnostic service by being at the head of the parasitology laboratory. His interests focus on the development and use of molecular techniques for the diagnosis of parasites.

For more technical or professional advice, please contact him directly. He will answer your questions.
